Memo: Safety improvements and comprehensive safety approach

To: Evanston Public Library Board of Trustees From: Heather Norborg, Interim Director, EPL

Date: Wednesday, May 17, 2023

Background

Recent increases in safety issues experienced by EPL are not unique to our library.

Though it is too early for definitive trend data, anecdotal evidence from across the country points to a recent increase in safety threats in public libraries when compared to pre-pandemic data. Public libraries face a range of different kinds of threats with many potential influencing factors – the rise of book bans and attempts at censorship have made libraries a more likely target for threats, while socioeconomic pressures have created more desperate and stressful situations for some of our most vulnerable patrons, who are statistically more likely to be targeted victims of crime.

In November 2022, the PLA hosted a virtual townhall following a spike in bomb and shooting threats against the backdrop of increased book challenges, and libraries across the U.S. and Canada (Examples: Winnipeg, Edmonton, Buffalo, Louisville, Downers Grove) have reported increases in the number of safety-related incidents compared to pre-pandemic data.

Balancing safety and security concerns with issues of social justice and inclusion, public libraries have taken many different approaches to improving safety. These responses range from bringing on more police patrols and surveillance and reducing operating hours to improving staff training for de-escalating and responding to crises, bringing in library security consultants, and developing community engagement teams to work directly with patrons.

The following is a discussion of the steps the Evanston Public Library is currently taking to ensure the safety of our patrons and staff in the short term, decision points for Board discussion, and our goals for a long-term plan for how we manage safety at the Evanston Public Library.

Response

In response to an increase in safety-related incidents at both branches of the Evanston Public Library, we promised a multi-pronged approach to addressing safety that balances the need to maintain a safe environment for staff and patrons with the need to create a welcoming atmosphere for all the members of our community. These are initial steps EPL has taken:

Safety Team staffing

Our safety team has been stretched thin following the resignation of our Safety Manager in November 2022. In addition to hiring, training, managing and mentoring our Safety Team, the Safety Manager is also responsible for a physical presence in the public service areas of our libraries and allows us to have up to two Safety Team members on the floor at all times during opening hours. Unexpected absences caused by sickness or other emergencies have created moments when the floor is not staffed at all. Thus, our top priority in addressing safety concerns is hiring this position. The position was posted immediately following the departure of the previous Safety Manager, however, in response to community feedback following the incident that occurred at the Main Library in January, we revisited and revised our job description and goals for the role:

- The revised Safety Manager job description, developed based on research of best practices from other libraries and a comprehensive approach that emphasizes de-escalation and restorative justice, was posted last week. The position closes May 31.
- Once hired, the new Safety Manager will have the responsibility of advising on an optimal staffing level and hiring additional Safety Monitors.

Evanston Police Department partnership

In the interim, as an immediate short-term measure, we have asked the Evanston Police Department to add the Main Library to its daily rounds in the downtown area. Uniformed police officers make stops inside the library up to twice a day.

- Community sentiment regarding increased police presence in the library is mixed. As an organization that serves vulnerable populations, ultimately, our goal is to reserve the use of police department assistance for immediate safety emergencies that require a police response. The increased police presence is intended to be a temporary stop-gap measure to help ensure the safety of our staff and patrons until our safety team staffing is stabilized, or alternatives such as a contracted security firm (see Board Direction: Phoenix Security, below) can be implemented.
- We continue to instruct staff to seek outside assistance from community behavioral health partners like Trilogy when an emergency behavioral health intervention is likely to produce a better outcome than law enforcement involvement.

Additionally, we are scheduling a building survey with EPD to review and offer recommendations on ways to improve the physical spaces inside the building to be able to prevent and respond more quickly to emergencies.

Social Worker position

Interviews begin Wednesday, May 17, for a social worker position that will be a permanent employee of the Library. The position will have responsibilities working with patrons directly as well as with our Safety Team and other staff to reinforce de-escalation training and build skills related to mental and emotional wellness, in addition to the role's primary responsibilities in resourcing patrons.

In-person and expanded online staff training

- The Library already uses The Librarian's Guide to Homelessness, considered the gold standard for libraries across the country in implementing a range of de-escalation techniques applicable to vulnerable people. Following January's incident, we required members of our Safety Team to immediately review this core training. We will continue to require regular review of these modules for all staff.
- On Tuesday, May 23, we are collaborating with Connections for the Homeless on a pilot training program on de-escalation techniques that will be held in person. Members of our Safety Team, our People in Charge, and a few additional staff will participate in this in-person training, which, if successful, will be rolled out to the rest of our public service staff. We believe the in-person format of the training will offer additional value to different kinds of learners who may benefit more from discussion and role-playing.

Community Partner Collaborations

In addition to the above-mentioned support from the Evanston Police Department, calls to Trilogy Behavioral Health, and training in partnership with Connections for the Homeless, EPL has been in discussion with other community partner organizations and city and elected officials on comprehensive approaches to reducing safety-related incidents. Through these partnerships, we intend to open more community-oriented conversations on approaches to working with vulnerable populations.

Communications tools

We have identified a need for additional communications tools to be able to more quickly communicate throughout our facilities in the event of an emergency. We are investigating the following options:

- The Vocera platform provides communications tools, similar to walkie talkies, that can make it easier and faster for our staff to communicate across the library from areas that may be hidden from sight lines, like in the stacks. We are awaiting a quote on this solution.
- We continue to work with City of Evanston IT to investigate options for reprogramming our existing phone system to implement an intercom/PA function that can be used to clear our facilities quickly in an emergency.

Board Direction: Phoenix Security Contract

From the date of posting, interviewing, hiring and onboarding a new Safety Manager is expected to take at least three months to complete. Because of the recent increase in safety incidents and mixed public sentiment expressed at previous board meetings regarding law enforcement presence in the Library, at the suggestion of City of Evanston leadership, we sought a quote from Phoenix Security to fill in staffing shortfalls. Phoenix currently provides contracted security services at the Morton Civic Center, the Robert Crown Community Center, and other city-owned facilities.

In brief, the initial proposal with Phoenix would provide a dedicated security officer at the Main Library during all hours the Library is open to the public, roughly equivalent to 1.5 FTE. The minimum length of contract Phoenix is offering is 12 months at a cost of about $109,000 ($30.97/hour; 67.5 hours/week). The security officers provided would work alongside our existing Safety Team. Staff is seeking direction from the board on whether to pursue a contract with Phoenix.

The Long View: A comprehensive safety plan

One of the major functions of the new Safety Manager position will be the design and implementation of an updated comprehensive safety plan that could encompass some or all of the following goals: (a) assessing and recommending the proper staffing levels and approach to staffing the Safety Team, (b) establishing a more robust staff training schedule and more accountability for implementing de-escalation techniques, (c) reviewing and establishing policies and procedures based on best practices, (d) identifying and nurturing community partnerships with the aim of reducing safety-related incidents and police calls, and other objectives that take into account the feedback that we have heard and will continue to solicit from residents and community members.

Conclusion

Following safety-related incidents at the library and in response to trends at public libraries across the country, we assured our staff, patrons and the wider community of a holistic, multi-pronged approach balancing safety and the maintenance of a welcoming atmosphere for our entire community. Work completed so far should be seen as an initial response to the rise in safety-related incidents, with the ultimate goal of a comprehensive safety plan implemented this year.

EVANSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY Racial Equity Task Force Meeting Minutes June 13, 2023

Members present: Heather Norborg, Joyce Miller-Bean, Max Weinberg, Terry Soto, Janice Mejia, Yesenia Cancel, Esther Wallen, Melissa Molitor, Hilda Morales, Mariana Bojorquez (note taker)

Joyce opened by reading the Land Acknowledgement.

Heather gave an update on state legislation re. book bans, which Governor Pritzker signed into law on June 12, 2023.

Heather reminded the group about the upcoming Juneteenth parade and PEPL Readathon in the fall and announced that the Executive Director job posting had been approved and posted. RETF members were encouraged to share with their networks.

Based on last month's discussion, Heather let the group know that Jenette Sturges is working on a mini-press kit template for sharing information about intentional programs with RETF members to use as "community influencers / ambassadors."

Discussion about the RETF proposal to the Library Board recommending support of an engagement position dedicated to outreach in the AAPI community. Melissa will represent the group at the June 21 Board meeting to explain the proposal and answer any board member questions. (See attached proposal entitled "EPL RETF Proposal to Library Board of Trustees June 2023")

Discussion about RETF member Janice's offer to use her NU students in the fall course on qualitative survey methods.

Discussion about RETF members suggesting titles for a recommended reads list, related to the new state law prohibiting book bans.

Proposal

Creation of a Position for an Outreach Coordinator Dedicated to Asian American Community Outreach and Engagement

Proposed By

The Evanston Public Library Racial Equity Task Force

Need

Despite the fact that 10%* of Evanstonians identify as Asian American there are no existing spaces, services, resources or support structures that center the Asian American community in Evanston. Additionally, there is no historical documentation of Asian Americans in Evanston in existence despite the fact that one of the first Asian Americans on record in Evanston dates back to the late 1800's. Nothing can be found at the Evanston History Center nor the Evanston Public Library.

*data is inaccurate due to underrepresentation and lack of disaggregation of data

In the past 5 years, EPL has made great strides in outreach that strives to meet the needs of communities that are historically marginalized. This is evident in the additions of outreach coordinators for the African American/Black community and the Latino/a/x community. Given the success of these recently added positions and the range and depth of programming that exists, EPL is uniquely equipped to address the needs of the Asian American community and to increase the visibility and representation of the Asian American community in our city.

Evanston Public Library's Commitment to Racial Equity

Evanston Public Library's Commitment to Racial Equity is a general statement that addresses the harm caused to marginalized communities. The EPL's 2020 EDI Assessment Recommendations explicitly addressed the following with regard to the African American/Black and Latina/o/x communities:

- Develop a talent management plan that identifies goals for hiring, developing, and promoting people of color
- Expand book collections that reflect the needs and interests of the Black and Latinx communities
- Continue supporting culture-specific engagement specialists
- Embed EDI into the Library's ongoing communication strategy

The Asian American community is not addressed in the 2020 EDI Assessment Recommendations. It is our request that the EPL Board of Directors create an outreach coordinator position dedicated to Asian American outreach and engagement. The reasons for having created the existing outreach coordinator positions for the African American/Black and Latino/a/x communities exist for the Asian American community and need to be addressed.

Potential Impact

- The creation of an Outreach Coordinator position for the Asian American community is part of EPL's larger Racial Equity initiative
- Increase in diversity of library visitors and users
- Increase in belonging for the Asian American community
- Increase in awareness and education about the many countries, cultures, ethnicities, communities that are part of the Asian American diaspora
- Establishment of programming and resources for schools, educators, students and families supporting the TEAACH Act
- Increased opportunities for new partnerships and collaborations

Inclusivity and Diversity

The goal is an intersectional approach to this position and outreach. Once an outreach plan to the Asian American community is established there will be a framework for focused resources and programming for Asian Americans with disabilities, neurodiversity, gender non-binary, LGBTQ+, multiracial and solidarity work.

Respectfully Submitted by Melissa Raman Molitor on behalf of the Evanston Public Library Racial Equity Task Force

Library Director's Report June 21, 2023

Updates:

On June 6, EPL participated in the Illinois Libraries Present virtual program featuring award winning author Jesmyn Ward in conversation with Tracie Hall, executive director of the American Library Association. Some of the attendee feedback included:

- Tonight's session was, subtly and powerfully, a tribute to the role of books & libraries (and librarians!) The rippling effects of book banning came up in a way that was integral and powerful. We need you all!
- The passion of the interviewer, the knowledge of both women creating this diversity of thought was beautiful to see.
- Excellent thought provoking questions and answers. Jesmyn and Tracie were simply outstanding. Keep providing such interesting programming for our libraries.
- I enjoyed learning about an author I would like to read. It was a great conversation and made me feel that I am not alone in thinking we have to keep our history from being put out of sight.
- One of the best programs I have attended this year. The raw, insightful, and honest conversation between Tracie and Jesmyn was amazing to watch.
- One of the richest author conversations I've yet experienced via ILP. Thoughtful and unique -- such effort to distinguish from typical "what is your process" Q&A that one might hear/see in hundreds of other interviews. This was a true celebration of both content and gorgeous prose.
- Keep the ILP program going, what wonderful events I look forward to each time. The diversity of topics and individuals are so appreciated.
- A model of its kind: a notable guest, and a librarian who brought out the best in this setting. It was actually better in Zoom than it would have been in person because of the intimacy of the way each face was present to the other speaker & to us. Fantastic.

And both Jesmyn Ward and Tracie Hall wrote after the event to say how very much they enjoyed the conversation. EPL LLL Librarian Heather Ross is on the Steering Committee and is the co-chair of the Programming Committee for Illinois Libraries Present. She has worked hard to bring diverse speakers to this statewide initiative.

This summer EPL is piloting a 6-week D65 STEM camp at both Robert Crown Branch Library and the Main Library. There are three cohorts: one for rising 4th-5th graders at Crown, one for rising 4th-5th graders at Main and one for rising 6th-7th graders at Main. Each week is a different theme, ranging from Lego Robotics to Gardening to TunePad and more. The Loft has two Mayor Summer Youth Employment Program teens assisting with the camps. Each weekly cohort is led by two EPL staff, with a total of 20 EPL staff participating in some capacity during the pilot. Prior to COVID, the IDL Teen Loft had experience hosting STEM summer camps, but this year's pilot includes Robert Crown and ELL as well and is the first year participating with D65.

For MLK Day, over 70 teens and adults joined EPL staff in creating reusable sanitary pads for the Girls4Girls Ghana organization. In total over 200 yards of fabric was cut and prepared, over 100 pairs of underwear and 20 boxes of disposable pads were donated, and 300 reusable pads were made. Earlier this month, IDL staff Elacsha Madison was invited to bring the pads to Ghana, teach menstrual health in the classrooms and distribute the pads in some of the rural areas. Because of EPL's contribution of 300 reusable pads, 100 young girls will not have to worry about missing school due to the lack of menstrual supplies and cost for the next 5 years. EPL will continue to partner in the fight against period poverty and ensure that girls have access to menstrual supplies by making reusable pads while also teaching sewing skills to teens during the citywide sewing challenge, national girls empowerment day, and a sewathon.

Staff reports:

Spotlight on Community Art at EPL

- The Bias Inside Us community tapestry: As part of EPL's 2022 presentation of the Smithsonian exhibit, "The Bias Inside Us," staff and patrons were invited to contribute to a tapestry called "Disrupting Bias." In February of 2023, the tapestry was entrusted to the care of Kids Create Change, who partnered with Lake Street Church during their Lenten series, "Tell Me the Truth About Racism." The goal was to give kids the opportunity to extend the tapestry before it moved on to its next location. Kids Create Change maintains custody of the tapestry through the end of the year, using it as part of their programming in community centers and schools. It is our hope that by the time it is returned to the care of EPL, it will have grown through the course of its travels as a visual representation of the importance of difficult conversations around race and bias.
- Community Art exhibits of note: Heather Ross, in coordinating art exhibits for the 3rd floor of the library, focuses on local artists whenever possible. There have been a few notable instances over the past year that have featured multiple local artists. At the end of 2022, the display space was dedicated to showcasing the work of recent ETHS graduates who continued to pursue their artistic interests after leaving school. During Black History Month and Women's History Month in 2023, local artists Amatziyah Thurman, Katia Jackson, Maria Antonia Villaseñor-Marchal, and Yeefah Thurman contributed art to our display in addition to hosting a workshop discussing the theme of the exhibit, "Freedom." Currently, we've been accepting submissions for our PRIDE month display from Evanstonian of all ages (called Pride Unites Us).
- "Ask Me about Buckthorn" Exhibition at the main library and Crown (May 2023 present)
  - This exhibition draws attention to the invasive Buckthorn plant. Artist Holly Greenberg has been working with teams of volunteers to remove invasive plants (primarily European Buckthorn) from Evanston parks and replace them with native plants to restore habitat for birds, insects and other native animals. Holly has been working with local volunteer groups at Ladd Arboretum, Harbart Payne Park, the Edible Evanston Food Forest and the Forest Preserves of Cook County.

- "From Yanga to Evanston: a cross-cultural survey of the African diaspora" Exhibition of Nichols School student work (Jan. 2023) Exhibition Description: Black people around the world have experienced similar and different effects from the transatlantic slave trade. Using two examples that are distant yet in some ways similar, tEvanston middle schoolers had a cross-cultural experience while learning new art techniques. They learned the concept of storytelling through visual arts while studying Mexican mural art, art as activism or propaganda and what the assemblage art genre is. The middle schoolers created artwork using concepts in the assemblage art genre and storytelling to express the effects of the transatlantic slave trade on Yanga, Mexico and Evanston, Illinois. They could choose to tell the whole story or tell a portion of the story. Most of them related to parts of the historical stories like freedom, resilience or separation from family and friends. What you see on display is evidence of 8 weeks of amazing creative work by young middle schoolers. This project was made possible by a grant from the Evanston Arts Council.
- Everything On Wheels is an (upcoming) installation project by artist Regin Igloria in which an array of pedestals will be placed around the Main Branch of Evanston Public Library in various locations from mid-July through the end of the year.

These mobile pedestals are hand crafted from scrap material (wood, pegboard, milk crates, random fabric, paint, and other reused items) and contain handmade books. Each pedestal and book will ask a different question for our patrons to answer; questions will be contemplative and open-ended, and patrons can use markers provided to draw and write their answers in the book. Not only will Everything On Wheels spark conversations, they will also allow for deep reflection and create a community of ideas around topics central to our library's mission, such as freedom and connection.

Presented in partnership with Hive Center for the Book Arts and North Branch Projects, Everything On Wheels will also have a programming component, with artist Regin Igloria presenting two community book binding workshops in the Falcon Room, in July and October.

Art for Older Adults:

Monthly in-person program that invites older adults to participate in the creative process through a variety of activities such as urban sketching, paint by numbers, shibori and pop-up card making. EPL staff host the events, facilitated by a local artist who is paid a stipend through the Age Options grant; all supplies needed are also grant funded.

Quotes from attendees & an instructor:

"I am so impressed by the Art Series for Older Adults. The instructors have been phenomenal—true professionals! I'm also impressed by the high quality of materials, suggestions for moving forward with the medium and books that support what we've learned. The program is very well organized, the library staff welcoming and the company fantastic. Thanks so much for this wonderful series. I always feel so enriched when I leave."

"Both the facilitator and presenter were warm, welcoming and respectful. I have always thought that the senior population is an underserved and somewhat ignored part of the community. These outreach programs are beneficial."

"Presenter was very knowledgeable and presented the art activity in a fun way. I loved the supplies. Have used them a number of times. Thank you."

"Thanks to your grant provider for the opportunity to connect at a great library! I very much enjoy being part of the programming."

"Thanks so much for offering this! Too often older adults are dismissed. I've taught Greek/Turkish folk dancing for seniors as well as mixed age folks, but had recent surgery and had to stop for a while. It's said we grow by embracing challenging activities. Art has always challenged me! But it's social and fun. I appreciate your offering this"

"I took an online urban landscape sketching class a month or so ago. I enjoyed it very much. Supplies provided were great. I think the instructor was named Shurti".

"I attended the class on urban sketching. It was wonderful. The teacher was excellent. I will sign up for the others."

"Janine and I participated in the recent water color class. We were impressed with the instructor. She was engaging, clear in her instructions, and set an attainable goal for all participants. The supplies were first rate.

"Overall, I would give the class an A-. It would have been better had we had the opportunity to sketch outdoors with further instruction. Perhaps later this spring. Many thanks."

"I loved the art class I took! Our instructor Sherry Smith was very welcoming and happy to share her knowledge in a way that was fun,engaging and supportive. I was impressed by the quality of the art supplies and have played with the water colors at home. I enjoyed the group and left the class feeling nourished by the experience. I have registered for the next class and am looking forward to it."

Art Programming for Teens

Staff member Morgan Patten, who has a background in anthropology and studio art, is really interested in the intersections of art, community, and material culture.

A lot of her programs are stand-alone arts/crafts, such as the Black History Month Painting Kits, just to encourage people to get into a creative headspace. It can be really calming and grounding, which she feels is necessary to be regulated and empathetic humans. We can't truly participate effectively in community if we are dysregulated and not in touch with ourselves.

The other part of her programming focuses on creative collaboration, such as D&D, which is her main program and involves group narrative building and storytelling. Teens have to work together to create the world they want to play in and creatively solve problems to meet a common goal for the day. The art of oral storytelling is so fascinating, and with it being a niche artform nowadays, I think it's important to keep it alive in some way.

Patten also presented a program at Park School that utilized Spheros and iPads to create accessible means to make a mural together. Basically, kids were able to touch the iPad screen and the Sphero would move, dragging a marker behind it. The final piece was a rainbow of colorful lines that intertwined together.

To: Evanston Public Library Board of Trustees

From: Heather Norborg, Interim Executive Director

Subject: Proposal to increase safety monitor budget

Date: June 21, 2023

Recommended Action

Library staff recommend approval of budget amendment to change five (5) part-time Safety Monitor positions to five (5) full-time Safety Monitor positions.

Summary

Both the Main Library and the Robert Crown Branch Library are open to the public 64 hours per week (Mon-Thurs 10am-8pm, Fri-Sat 9am-6pm and Sun 12-6pm).

Currently, we have budgeted five (5) part-time Safety Monitors, for a total of 104 hours per week, and one (1) full-time Safety Manager position at 37.5 hours per week. This only allows for single monitor coverage of the Main Library most hours, with double coverage during some limited hours, and single coverage at the Robert Crown Branch Library less than one-third of the open hours, with no monitor coverage during other times.

Our goal is to increase our coverage to provide two (2) monitors on duty at the Main Library and one (1) monitor on duty at the Robert Crown Branch Library at all times the libraries are open to the public and to also have enough coverage for monitors to participate in ongoing, regular meetings, training and mentoring sessions with the Safety Manager.

Increasing the five (5) Safety Monitor positions to full-time would move us towards this goal. It would give us 187.5 hours of monitor coverage per week, which would allow us to provide two (2) monitors on duty at the Main Library and one (1) monitor on duty at the Robert Crown Branch Library for most hours the libraries are open to the public, plus covering opening and closing duties. We would still only have one monitor at Main and no monitor at Crown for the first few, quieter weekday morning hours.
